More Aid For Europe Urged

Acheson Calls For Support Of Program

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said last night that the North Atlantic Allies have taken "giant strides" toward becoming a bastion of world peace and he urged "utmost support" from the American people for a continued foreign aid program.

"The days of danger are still with us," Acheson said. "The forces which will be available in Europe by the end of this year are not the total forces required to assure the maintenance of peace. This is true even when the productive power of the United States and our airpower is added."

In a nationally broadcast and televised address, Acheson reported to the nation on the tentative decisions taken at the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) meetings just concluded at Lisbon.

Appealing to the people to support President Truman's forthcoming request to Congress for $7,900,000,000 in new foreign aid funds, he said U.S. assistance "is playing a vital part in the structure of strength which is being built in Europe."

Although he praised the agreements reached at Lisbon as contributions to growing free power against the threat of Communist aggression, Acheson cautioned that much work remains to be done.

"But free men will accomplish by peaceful means what tyrants have never been able to do," he said, "and in so doing, they will demonstrate the creative energy and power of freedom which will continue to flourish long after tyrannies have been forgotten."

Acheson described five major accomplishments of the Lisbon conference as making up "a great stride toward the goal of strong and united Nations." Together, he said, they mean that European defense forces at the end of this year will be "a real fighting force composed of a specified number of ground divisions, aircraft formations and naval forces."

He used no figures, not mentioning reports that the plan is to provide Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's NATO forces with 50 divisions by the year's end. That figure has been criticized in many quarters as unreal.

Acheson said the decisions taken for setting up a six-nation European defense community, with West Germany as an ally, "have brought us to the dawn of a new day in Europe." But he added: "These are not completed actions."

He voiced confidence that the European nations will back the Lisbon agreements. These require ratification by the parliaments of the 14 North Atlantic Allies.

Acheson listed as accomplishments of the Lisbon NATO meetings:

"First, agreement was reached on the forces to be made available to Gen. Eisenhower's NATO command during this calendar year."

"Second, agreement was reached on the bases and facilities to be built and maintained for these forces."

"Third, agreement was reached approving the creation of a European Army by six nations, including West Germany."

"Fourth, agreement was reached by which the return of West Germany to a place of equality and responsibility can be achieved."

"And fifth, NATO itself was reorganized and greatly strengthened."

"These agreements and actions represent great progress. But the success of these measures will depend upon how vigorously they are followed up by further action."

Allied Infantry Smashes Chinese Attack; U.S. Tank Raiders Meet Heavy Fire

Seoul, Korea, Saturday (AP)—Allied infantrymen smashed a Chinese attack in company strength early today on the central Korean front where United Nations tank raiders ran into trouble yesterday.

A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer reported the Reds attacked shortly after midnight behind heavy mortar and machinegun fire. The U. N. infantrymen, strongly entrenched in the area west of Chorwon, doggedly held their ground.

The attack was smashed when Allied artillery boomed in support of the infantry's small arms.

This was where a U. N. task force of 46-ton General Patton tanks, striking into the hills west of Chorwon, was forced back Friday under a storm of Red artillery and mortar fire.

The briefing officer said one of the tanks was destroyed and three damaged.

A twin-pronged tank thrust east of Chorwon, in the Kumsong area, paid dividends despite damage to six other Allied tanks. The Eighth Army reported 15 Communist bunkers destroyed or damaged and one concrete tunnel damaged.

The tank actions topped Allied activities along the 155-mile front.

The Reds sent light patrols against Allied positions on the eastern front but withdrew after brief clashes.

Snow melted rapidly across the battle line as temperatures rose to the 40s and 50s in the first early spring reading.

Russell Candidacy Gains Strength In South At Expense Of Kefauver, HST

(By the Associated Press)

There was some apparent if unpublished redrawing of Democratic presidential lines yesterday in the wake of Sen. Richard B. Russell's announcement that he is a candidate for the nomination.

Organization strength in much of the South swung to the Georgia senator immediately following his entry into the race on Thursday. It was evident that much of the Dixie strength which might have gone to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was ebbing away.

Most all-out opponents of President Truman's civil rights program regard Russell as one of them; he has sparked legislative Senate fights against the bills in the past. Southern college graduates regard Kefauver as a little more lukewarm in his opposition.

Anti-Truman forces in Alabama won a victory when the State Supreme court ruled yesterday that candidates for elector may run without taking a pledge of loyalty to the Democratic national ticket.

The State Democratic committee had adopted the pledge of allegiance to the national ticket, regardless of who gets the presidential nomination, for candidates in the May 6 primary. The committee also sought to apply the pledge to the voters themselves, but the court ruled only on the question of elector candidates.

Its 5-2 decision opened the way for another possible revolt against Truman like the one in 1948 which kept Alabama's 11 electoral votes from him.

Jack Bell, Associated Press political reporter, said the Russell candidacy also posed a serious threat to Truman, who has said he will delay for another month or so at least any disclosure of his own intentions.

Writing from Washington, Bell said the prospective Democratic candidate who might be helped most by the Russell move is Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. There has been much speculation that if Truman does not run, he might seek to get the nomination for Stevenson.

Another announced candidate, if Truman does not run, is Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma. Russell's announcement was also regarded as taking away prospective strength from him.

In other developments yesterday, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio took his campaign for the Republican nomination to Chicago, Harold E. Stassen challenged Gov. Earl Warren of California in Warren's home state, and a newspaper survey showed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower enjoying a narrow and possibly shaky margin over Taft in New Hampshire.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts gave a cryptic reply to a question whether Eisenhower, whom Lodge and others are backing for the GOP nomination, will return to the U. S. shortly.

Reached at his home in Beverly by a reporter for the Hampshire Gazette published at Northampton, Mass., Lodge was asked about a report that Eisenhower will be back within the next few weeks.

"Some strange and unexpected developments will occur shortly," Lodge replied without elaborating. He added he has not urged the general to come back from Europe, and said Eisenhower "will be in the right place at the right time."

Strikes Settled

Philadelphia (AP) — State and Federal mediators last night announced settlement of a dispute which has tied up dry cargo shipping in the Philadelphia port area and idled some 4,000 longshoremen for five days.

Truce Talks Reach Most Critical Point

Munsan, Korea, Saturday (AP)—Korean armistice negotiations reached their most critical impasse in seven months yesterday when a high-level United Nations command decision barring Russia as a neutral truce inspector was delivered to the Communists.

Angrily the Communists demanded that the Allies withdraw their statement and accused the U. N. command of "an unreasonable, arbitrary and aloof attitude."

U. N. negotiators had informed the Reds that "under no circumstances will there be a chance in the decisions." The rejection of Russia was called absolutely "final and irrevocable."

The Allies also announced there was no possibility they would abandon their stand against forcing prisoners to return to the Communist side if they did not want to go back.

In this unyielding frame of mind, Allied negotiators prepared to go to Panmunjom once more today for a staff officers' session of truce supervision and a meeting on prisoner exchange by a subcommittee of the main armistice delegation. Both meetings were scheduled for 11 a.m.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U. N. command spokesman, said the decision to bar Russia from participation as a neutral came from "very high military levels."

"The next move is up to the Communists," Nuckols said.

The U. N. spokesman said the Allied stand against Russia was "the strongest since last July." It was then that the U. N. command warned there would be a breakdown in negotiations if the Reds insisted on the 38th parallel as a cease-fire demarcation line. The Reds yielded.

Col. Don O. Darrow, senior Allied staff officer in truce supervision talks, delivered the Allied statement to the Reds.

"I tell you formally, unequivocally and with the fullest authorization that the U. N. command decision to reject the Soviet Union as a member of the neutral nations supervisory commission is absolutely firm and irrevocable."

Tax Bureau's Plea For More Workers Cut

Washington (AP) — The House Appropriations committee yesterday trimmed the scandal-ridden Bureau of Internal Revenue's request for 7,000 more employees to 700.

In taking the action, the committee noted that President Truman is proposing a large-scale reorganization of the tax collecting service and said it assumed this would result in savings.

The committee also said the workload for handling the new tax on gambling is not as heavy as had been anticipated, and the bureau's "racketeering drive has reached its peak."

Known for its frequent bitter criticism of government agencies, the committee reported its first regular appropriation bill for the fiscal year starting July 1 without harsh words.

The measure, to finance the Treasury and Postoffice departments, carried $3,442,455,000 as it went to the House floor from the committee. This is a reduction of $72,690,000 or 2 per cent from the amount asked by President Truman in his budget.

Tax-Weary Citizens Start Shirts-For-Congress Drive

Washington (AP)—Rep. Scudder (R-Calif.) appears to be in for a deluge of shirts. But he suspects they'll be old ones and so he isn't too excited about it.

A shirts-for-congressmen campaign was started Thursday in Scudder's district. Secretary-Treasurer Don W. McColl of the California State Farm bureau told an audience in Marysville, Calif.:

"To my congressman, I say: 'You are taking now (in taxes) almost everything but my shirt. So you might as well have that, too.'"

McColl yanked off his shirt. So did eight others.

Later, they said their goal was

Twin Sons Among Leap Year Day Babies Born To Couples At Monroe County General Hospital

Joe and Jack Fleming, a couple of Cusky twins, were the innocent victims of a double-cross yesterday when they were born "Leap Year Day" babies at General Hospital.

Remember, they'll have to wait four years before they have a real birthday.

Just about as crossed up until X-rays proved otherwise were Joe and Gladys Fleming of 1188 West Main St., Stroudsburg, the parents.

They were banking on just one child up to the x-ray disclosures. Mrs. Fleming entered the hospital on Washington's birthday.

Strangely, some acquaintances who met Mr. Fleming that day quipped that he should become the father of twins that day—a boy and a girl who should be named George and Martha.

Joe was born at 5:40 a.m. yesterday and weighed exactly 6.75 pounds. At 6:01 Jack entered the world. He tipped the scales at a plump 6.55 pounds. The Flemings have a daughter Joann about two and a half.

Mrs. Fleming is a registered nurse. Papa Fleming works at the Hughes Printing Co. as a pressman's helper.

Other February 29 births yesterday were a son to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pagotto, Bangor; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. William Hansen, Columbia, N. J.

Military Sets Manpower Goal

Washington (AP) — A Selective Service official said yesterday it appears that 600,000 to 700,000 men will have to enter the armed forces in the year starting July 1 to maintain their strength at 3½ million men.

These men, the official emphasized to a reporter, would not all be draftees but would include the volunteers and any reserves or National Guard units the Defense department might order into service. He said the total did not include men the armed forces expected to reenlist.

He said Selective Service has had no word from the Defense department to how many men it expects to ask through the draft next year, nor for any month beyond April of this year.

Draft calls are set and issued by the secretary of defense. The Selective Service spokesman said his agency is not advised in advance of how many men are to be involved in them. Factors taken into consideration in setting the numbers to be drafted each month include the number of men volunteering and reenlisting to offset current attrition rates.

He pointed out that at the outbreak of the war in Korea the armed forces numbered 1½ million men and were increased fast.

That means, he said, that reservists put on active duty then for 17 months and draftees inducted for two years service will probably have to be replaced in sizeable numbers this year.

Indian Chief Dies

Warren, Pa. (AP)—Ezra Jacobs, chief of a branch of the Seneca tribe, will be buried today on the reservation here with the faithful members of his tribe gathered around. Jacobs, grandfather of the first Chief Complanter, died Wednesday in a Bradford hospital from natural causes at the age of 75.

Bennett Meyers Released From U.S. Penitentiary

Levittown (AP)—Bennett E. Meyers, former Air Force major general who pleaded guilty to evading $61,400 in Federal income taxes, has been released after serving 17 days less than a year at the Federal penitentiary here.

Meyers, who was top purchasing agent for the Air Force in Washington and at Wright-Patterson field, Dayton, Ohio, during World War Two, took a pauper's oath, saying all his funds had been impounded and liens placed against his property by the government. He promised that any funds he acquired would be used to pay the fine.

Senate Unit Votes Hike In Service Pay

Washington (AP) — The Senate Armed Services committee approved yesterday a bill to give a 3 per cent pay boost to everyone in the armed forces and increased living allowances to those with dependents.

The estimated cost to the taxpayers: 475 million dollars. That was a sharp reduction from the bill already passed by the House. It called for a flat 10 per cent increase in both base pay and allowances. The estimated cost was $50 million dollars a year.

The staff of the Senate committee said the raises proposed in the committee's bill would average 5.6 per cent.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) said the committee vote to send the completely rewritten measure on to the Senate was unanimous. But he said four or five members favored granting only the increased living allowances, and some opposed all increases. However they favored sending the bill to the Senate for debate. Russell told newsmen he hopes for early Senate action.

Under the Senate version, a 3 per cent boost in base pay would go to all of the some 3,600,000 persons in the armed forces. But many of the allowances for food and quarters would be raised more than the 10 per cent provided in the House bill.

Lower Price Trend Seen

Washington (AP) — The government yesterday reported a new drop in food prices and an expert said it may bring down living costs, temporarily at least.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of statistics in the Labor department, told a new conference that food prices dropped 2.1 per cent between mid-January and mid-February.

They declined 0.9 per cent between January 15 and January 28, and an additional 1.2 per cent between January 28 and February 15.

Wholesale commodity prices, Clague said, have fallen 1½ per cent in the past six weeks—or half as much as the three per cent decline in wholesale prices all during 1951.

Clague was cautious, however, in drawing any long-term conclusions from the figures, saying he saw "no sign yet of any real downward trend" in prices.

OPS Sues PRR To Cut Charge In Pay Toilets

Philadelphia (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization went to court yesterday to force the Pennsylvania railroad to lower its private toilet charge in rest rooms from 10 to five cents.

The railroad countered with the charge the government agency was attempting to "extend its powers beyond those given it by Congress."

OPS filed suit in U. S. District court for $385,245 damages—three times the amount it claims the railroad realized since it increased its private toilet fee from a nickel to a dime and its charge for towel, soap and comb from 10 to 25 cents.

Russia 'Insulted'

Washington (AP) — Russia rejected yesterday as "an insult to the Soviet Union" an invitation to tell Congress its story of the Katyn forest massacre of Polish war prisoners early in World War Two.

Entire Blocks Leveled At Fayetteville

BULLETIN
Nashville, Tenn. (AP) The Red Cross reported 13 persons killed in a tornado which lashed the south-central Tennessee town of Fayetteville late yesterday. The injured numbered more than 150 as a result of the terrific blow which leveled entire blocks in the heart of town.

Nashville, Tenn. (AP) — A pre-Spring tornado stabbed into the heart of the south central Tennessee community of Fayetteville late yesterday, leaving at least three dead, about 150 injured and entire blocks leveled.

The furious winds struck with blitz force, eyewitnesses reported. Fires, fanned by the whistling winds, sprang up and completed the destruction of many buildings damaged by the blow.

Severe wind and hail accompanied the winds. Communications were cut off, except for mobile radio units set up by National Guardsmen and the Tennessee Highway patrol.

The report of the dead and injured came from the guardsmen and patrol crews which went into action immediately after the word got out. Highway patrol headquarters in Nashville kept the figures on the dead and injured.

Other areas in north Alabama and central Tennessee suffered from the storm, but Fayetteville was by far the hardest hit. In Fort Payne, Ala., 70 miles to the south, seven persons were injured. Two of the three dead were identified by officers as Mrs. Eugene McGee, about 55, and Willard McCowan, 35, both of Fayetteville.

One eyewitness, Henry Wright, a Fayetteville commercial photographer, said the dread funnel-shaped cloud heralding the tornado bore down on Fayetteville at 4:33 p.m. (CST). He was working in his garden greenhouse at the time.

"It felt like some giant hand took my green house and was shaking and twisting it," Wright said.

"My mother was in the greenhouse and glass was flying all around."

"So I pushed her in the corner and got in front of her."

"Just before the twister hit it began hailing stones as big as my fist," said Wright.

Hotel Fire Routs 125

Philadelphia (AP) — A million-dollar fire, one of the most spectacular in years in downtown Philadelphia, wrecked the Clinton hotel yesterday, forcing more than 125 hotel guests and occupants of nearby apartments to flee to the street.

The fact that the fire started slowly, flooding the seven-story brick structure with thick smoke for some time before flames crackled throughout the building, helped prevent any loss of life.

An estimated 60 firemen and a few hotel guests were made ill by smoke. Assistant Police Superintendent Herbert P. Kitchenman told reporters at the scene that all occupants of the hotel were awakened and warned in time to flee.

Some had to be helped down fire escapes and ladders.

E. A. Patrick, manager of the 180-room hotel, estimated damage to the structure at one million dollars, and said the fact that most of the occupants lost all their clothing and possessions would add another $250,000 of the total.

Patrick and his wife were asleep in their second floor apartment when the fire was discovered about 2:45 a.m. by Joseph Golden, night clerk.

On Sunday at 11 a. m. the sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered to members and friends in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church. Employees To Take Oath Of Loyalty Employees of State, departments, commissions and bureaus in this region who will participate in a mass loyalty oath ceremony Monday night at the Court House will hear a broadcast of Gov. John S. Fine's speech when he administers the oath to employees at Harrisburg. Program starts at 8 p. m.

Arthur Dinstel, maintenance superintendent of the Highway department who arranged the program, said District Attorney Elmer D. Christine will act as master of ceremonies.

Robert Hilton will direct the group as song leader and Rev. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg Methodist church, will give the invocation. Flag salute and singing of "God Bless America" will precede the broadcast from Harrisburg at 8:38 p. m.

Judge Fred W. Davis will administer the loyalty oath required by a 1951 legislative enactment.

Dale H. Learn, official of the POS of A will make an appropriate address.

Rev. Adan A. Bohner, Kunkletown will administer the benediction.

The broad loyalty oath law covers State, county and municipal government workers in Pennsylvania as well as all public school teachers.

The law, along with prescribing the anti-Communist oath, also requires the screening of all new public employees for possible subversive connections or beliefs.

Persons who take the oath and are found guilty of violating its provisions are liable to fines up to $3,000 or seven years in jail, or both.

Any person cited under the law may carry an appeal through the courts to State Supreme court.

The previous State law required elected and appointed public officials to take an oath of allegiance to the constitution. The loyalty law extends that requirement to rank-and-file public workers, including public school teachers, with the additional anti-subversive oath. Elected officials presently are exempt from it but the law requires that candidates for elective office, in the future, must file the loyalty oath along with their nominating petitions.

Under the law they are required to pledge allegiance to the Constitution, and also to swear "that I do not advocate, nor am I knowingly a member of any organization that advocates the overthrow of the government of the U. S. or of this Commonwealth, by force or violence or other unconstitutional means."

Two hundred cattle suffering from the crippling virus were herded into a huge burial pit, 10 feet deep, and killed by gunfire in a drastic campaign to stamp out the disease.

The outbreak has led to a quarantine over a region running 25 miles around Regina and a United States embargo on the import of all Canadian livestock, meat products, hay and straw.

The first 200 head were killed on the dairy farm of Konstantine Haun. Quicklime was poured over the carcasses. Haun lost 40 of his own animals. The others were herded in or driven in trucks from nearby farms.

The department allowed a boost of from 6 cents to 10 cents a $100 for extended coverage insurance on non-fire resistive construction. Rates for buildings of fire resistive design go up from 2 to 2½ cents for each $100 of insurance coverage per year.

The department said the increases were made necessary on the basis of loss experience by insurance companies in the past 10 years.

John Shaffer and Michael Palmisane were heard in the number, "It's No Sin," while Mary Lou Ace and Gertrude Safin put on a tap dance. Miss Marguerite Cramer, music director in the school, was the accompanist.

An explanation of Swiss music was also given in connection with the play. 8-C room pupils acted as announcers and also placed the decorations.

Many Birthdays Rolled Up In One For Teacher

Mrs. Anna K. Meixell more than made up for the Leap year birthdays she misses between leap years yesterday when she was presented with 10 birthday cakes and parties that lasted through the whole day.

The excitement started when Mrs. Meixell, a teacher in the Ramsey school, arrived for her first reading class with the fifth grade in Room 8. There to greet her was a tremendous birthday cake, decorated with roses and six candles. A little girl from the other 5th grade brought the second birthday cake. Another delegation, a boy and a girl from the fourth grade, brought a cake which they had baked themselves.

Climax of the day came when Mrs. Meixell entered her own sixth grade for their reading period. One of the pupils was standing at a tea table ready to pour the punch, there was a gift on her desk, and in the reading corner were six more cakes, all made by the parents of her pupils, glowing with candles. Birthday napkins and cups showed the care the children had taken to have the birthday just right.

But the end was not yet, because there came a tenth cake for Mrs. Meixell to share with the other teachers in the building, and when she got home last night her son, John, had a strawberry shortcake in honor of that rare birthday.

Mrs. Meixell said last night that she felt she had made up for quite a few non-birthday years in one great Leap Year birthday.

What to do with an extra egg white? Slice a ripe banana into it and then beat until stiff with a rotary egg beater; sweeten to taste by beating a little sugar in and point up the flavor with a teaspoon or two of strained lemon juice and a dash of salt. Serve over sliced oranges for a refreshing dessert.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Leap Year day had everybody leaping, what with bridal showers and birthdays left and right. But I'll bet nobody was busier than Mrs. Anna Meixell whose pupils started celebrating her birthday with the first class in the morning and kept it up all day.

Linda Rumsey, who was telling me the story, said the fifth grade called theirs a "birthday breakfast"—and included the information that Mrs. Meixell had given them an arithmetic lesson on how they were going to cut the cake.

Now there's the kind of arithmetic kids can see some sense to. And the children at Clearview who made the hats and favors for Mike DeSanto's leap year birthday had themselves a nice example of useful handicraft.

Adults enjoying the excitement were Mrs. Nelson Westbrook, Miss Louise Dunkelberger, Miss Mary Pearce, Mrs. Elmer Rinehart, Mrs. John Possinger, Mrs. William Fetherman, Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, Mrs. Charles Predmore, Mrs. Frank Oyer, Mrs. Harold Reaser, Mrs. George Hiller, Mrs. Ashton Burrows and the hostess, Mrs. Ray Dunkelberger.

But the ushers didn't get too much time to meditate at first—they were too busy bringing in extra chairs. Really was inspiring to see so many there. Why, it even brightened the shopping crowd with all the women who'd been there stopping in for groceries, bright new spring hats and all.

However, I'm satisfied to have Leap Year Day come only every four years. How about you?

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Janet Arnold, Wyckoff's switchboard operator, just looked in the door to say, "Blanche Mackey called and if somebody comes down right away she has something for us." It's about time too . . . for we office girls have been suffering valiantly all afternoon as the delicious aromas of cooking school have been wafted up the stairwell.

"Whatever is she cooking?" we would wait every now and then, sniffing in ecstasy. Some said tuna fish casserole . . . others thought beef stew . . . one girl said, "That's definitely Italian spaghetti." I was the only one who knew for sure . . . it was ambrosia and I was hungry! So now we have a sample and the fact that it was deviled crabs and french fried onions is even more perfect, because they're two of my favorite dishes. (Fact is, unless I have deviled crab regularly in the Wyckoff Tea Room, life is a pretty dull affair.)

Clara Hall, home economist for Frigidaire, is the lady who had us all at the point of distraction yesterday. What a joy to watch her work! Miss Hall proves the point that a woman can look attractive and unfruffled, and be smiling and chatty, even while she's in the midst of preparing a full course meal or baking a cake. "How long she asks, 'since you've made jelly roll?'" And then, when no one answers, she hurries on, "Um-hum, that's just what I thought. And it's so simple!"

For her it is . . . but not, she insists, because she has any special secrets. She simply has a wonderful kitchen in which to work . . . complete with Frigidaire equipment which is in a class by itself.

It seems to me there's nothing in the world women enjoy so much as cooking schools and bargains. That's why they love Wyckoff's—particularly during Women's Days. Yesterday they found both. Today bargains continue and we women of Wyckoff's are honoring the men. As proof that they have won our enduring favor, we offer them very special favors. Maybe we shouldn't MENTION it, but in our present MENTAL state, we women think MEN are wonderful. Ah MEN!

French People Reportedly Hoarding Nearly $5 Billion In Gold -- More Than Banks

Editor's Note: Following is the fifteenth in a series of reports from Britain and Europe by Ruth Haller Ottaway, mother of James H. Ottaway, publisher of The Daily Record. The writer is an experienced journalist and traveler and her reports from abroad in recent years have received a favorable reception by Record readers.

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

Paris—We are told by a numismatist, a coin and medal expert, that gold hoarders the world over become numismatists and join their officially recognized society. Dealing in gold coins and medals thereby becomes legal. This expert said that men unknown to him—inter-country transport employees of one kind or another—would appear with bags of gold coins, medals, gold swords or gold-decorated swords or just gold. They would dump their spoils on our host's table, mutter that someone would be along to pick them up, and disappear into the night. Another incognito would come along and pick them up, thus placing our informant in an unsolicited and undesirable position. He thereafter refused to admit anyone without identification, having installed a peep-window in his door. It was suggested that King Farouk is the possessor of the little pile of gold which is as much his own business as our Government's cache of the largest supply of gold in the world in Fort Knox, Ky.

Mrs. Ottaway

Statistics state that minute particles of gold, washed down by rivers through the ages, are found in salt water at a ratio which justifies the estimate of ten million tons of gold in the oceans of the world. Land gold reserves of the world amount to $35,940,000,000, two thirds of which is cached in Kentucky. That means that all the gold in the world amounts to only 34,243 tons. But why try to carry out any of the schemes for extracting the ten million tons of gold in the oceans? This over supply only make gold valueless.

More strange revelations poured into our ears in this weird numismatic hunt in which the ceilings were draped in plaited red cloth rising to a pagoda peak, and the entire place was filled with "collections" of all sorts of antiques. The French, it seems, have been known always for secreting gold, often in their walls. In that very house, a wall had been taken down to the tune of jingling gold coins. (An ancient slot-machine!)

Recently a friend had benefited by this hoarding habit. There was a large old urn in the little rear garden with no plants. Each summer she would say, "Now we must change old soil for new and plant some flowers in that urn." But the summers flew by and the urn stood old, cracked and unadorned. Ah! The surge of spring got into her bones, and last May she attacked the urn. Under the hard-packed soil were hundreds of gold "Napoleons".

Not a mere tale, but a fact that French citizens are caching three thousand tons of gold ($4,885,600,000) according to a report by an incognito official. This is nine times as much gold as the bank of France holds in reserve. Gold smuggling from other countries has increased, gold being bought with American dollars because no one wants French francs.

The number of American tourists coming to France is greater than ever, reaching a new high in 1951. But in spite of one-third more visitors from the United States, the French American tourist income is 20 per cent less. This is due to laxity in enforcing the official rate of 350 francs per American dollar. Even your own home bank gives you 416 francs, and here in Paris a United States bank check brings the best exchange.

France is a Midas, hugging what it believes to be security, and thereby risking losing it. From peasant to capitalist, the French people turn their paper money into gold which they hoard. They are suspicious of their government and what will happen next, and without realizing it are straining their economy to the breaking point.

With the Paris Herald Tribune we receive a monthly economic review supplement. In its annual review of France's economy, we see such headings as "Highest Industrial Production Ever"; "American Aid Helped a Lot"; "More Coal in 1951"; "Notable Increase in Electric Power Output"; "Petroleum Refining Rises More than a Quarter During the Year"; "Steel Production Tops 1929"; "23% More Automobiles"; "Exports to U. S. are Doubled".

The last headline, "Rapid Rise in Prices and Wages" sounds very much like our own vicious merry-go-round, and suggests that the problem cannot be so simplified as to explain all by gold hoarding and the black market in francs.

Michael Lenkowski, R. N., and male orderly, dwell on men and the nursing profession. William Waite, assistant superintendent of the hospital, handled the administrative part of the panel.

The program was arranged by the faculty guidance committee, of which Mrs. Martha Martin is the leader.

Pianist Gives Program At SHS Assembly

Two extra curricular features marked the program at Stroudsburg High school yesterday. The first number was the school assembly at 8:45 a. m. when William Haaker, pianist for both the Virginia Little Symphony and the Senior group, was the entertainer. Mr. Haaker, who was presented by Numa J. Snyder, director of music at the school, was heard in a program of classical and popular selections.

In the afternoon at 3, the student body gathered in the auditorium where they engaged in an enthusiastic pep meeting for the basketball battle of the boroughs staged last night at the East Stroudsburg High gymnasium. Coach Sam Russell addressed the young people and there was a vigorous cheering session.

Property Values Climb; Assessments Remain Same

(This is the fifth in a series of articles based on actual real estate sales in boroughs and townships and the amounts at which those properties were assessed. Figures were taken from official county records.)

By Leonard Randolph

Rise in Delaware Water Gap property values has evidently changed that borough from the highest-assessed district in the county to a below-average position, if 1951 sales of property are to be considered.

State Tax Equalization board figures set the borough's assessments at 30.85 per cent of the market value in 1950.

Construction of the new bridge across the Delaware has apparently caused a rise in the value of property. Assessments were not revised upward to keep pace with the change in real estate values as shown by typical 1951 sales.

Probable reasons: It cost no more dollars to support the borough's school and road system, regardless of the property value rise.

On the basis of 16 typical real estate sales in the borough in 1951, the ratio of assessed value to real estate is now about 19 per cent—compared with the 30.85 per cent of 1950.

Since the 1950 county-wide average was 23.02 per cent Delaware Water Gap, on the basis of 16 sales of 1951 was 5.12 per cent below the county average. Only five other districts are lower: Hamilton, Jackson, Price, Ross and Smithfield townships.

Total value of Delaware Water Gap property was established by the State Tax board in 1950 as $1,310,244.

The 16 typical sales last year brought a total of $174,000. This is a little more than 13 per cent of all land in the borough, and provides a fair sampling.

The properties sold for $174,000 were assessed for a total of $32,900—or about 19 per cent.

This drop in a single year of 12 per cent in the proportion of assessed value to sale market value shows how assessments in a given district fluctuate according to economic conditions.

In order for the properties sold to have been on an assessment par with the rest of the county (by the 1950 average) the assessments on the properties should have been about $40,000 instead of $32,900.

If Delaware Water Gap's 1950 assessment ratio had stood firm, the assessments would have been even higher—about $54,000.

By failing to keep the assessment ratio in line with real estate value increases, the borough during 1951 lost tax revenue on some $21,000 for the 16 typical properties sold.

Within the borough itself there was wide variations in the ratio of real value to assessed values—ranging from a minimal 2 per cent to a maximum 43 per cent.

Taking the average assessment on the properties sold as about 19 per cent of the real value, it turned out that five property owners were assessed less than that, while 11 were assessed more.

Using the 1950 county average as a yardstick, seven property owners were "under-assessed" while nine paid more than the county average.

The fragmentary 2 per cent assessment turned up in the sale of a lot last spring for $10,500. The assessment: $150.

The highs were two properties, one a house which brought $4,000 and assessed at $1,700, and another tract sold for $15,000 which had been assessed at $6,500. In each case the ratio was 43 per cent.

A remarkable comparison may be drawn between House A, (the $4,000 sale) and still another, House B:

House B sold for the same as House A—$4,000. Yet House A was assessed at 43 per cent, while House B was assessed at 38 per cent.

A dollar assessment of $1,700 was set for Houses A and C. Yet where House A sold for $4,000, House C sold for $7,000. The difference in the assessment ratio is revealed as 19 per cent.

In another case, two properties were assessed at $3,450 each. Last year one sold for $38,000, the other for $35,000—a $3,000 difference.

In both instances, the assessment ratio was only around half the average for all 16 properties.

Another pair of properties were assessed at $2,200 and $2,500 respectively. Both were sold for the same price of $10,000. The ratio differences were 22 per cent and 25 per cent.

Comparing two low-assessed properties, the ratio on one was 13 per cent of the market value, and 16 per cent on the other. Last year both sold for $7,500.

A striking comparison is shown in a house sold for $11,000. It was assessed $3,300. A neighboring house sold for $10,000. The latter was assessed $2,200.

Here, the difference of more than a thousand dollars in the assessment values was greater than the difference in the actual sale price. The ratio of assessed-to-real values for the two properties was 22 and 30 per cent.

Even though a lot may be small, in cash value, the assessed valuation may be well out of line with other properties. One small lot which sold for a thousand dollars was assessed at $200. This 20 per cent is still above the average for the 16 properties sold.

Yet compare it with the lot which sold for only $500, yet was assessed at $150. The ratio in the latter case was 10 per cent higher than the former.

For the 16 properties considered, the real-to-assessed value ratios were: (in per centages): 2, 9, 10, 13, 16, 20, 22, 24, 25, 28, (2) 30, 33, 38, and (2) 43.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Tobyhanna Township High accounted for its fifteenth basketball victory of the current campaign on Thursday, by taking the Monroe County League All-Stars into camp, 65-37. It marked the third straight year that TTHS has been in the annual classic and according to reports coming out of the circuit it is quite possible that the maroon and gold clad cagers may take part in the affair for the fourth straight time next season, as only Norman Lewis and "Buddy" Judge graduate from this year's varsity.

Speaking of Judge brings to mind the fact that you can put the TTHS guard down as one of the top ten playmakers to ever perform in the Monroe County League. Jim "Cocky" Wilson and Fred Blakeslee also made distinct hits with the large crowd at the East Stroudsburg High gymnasium on Thursday. Ray Welsh, former outstanding basketball coach at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will speak at the TTHS basketball banquet to be held in the very near future.

Although there was a large crowd on hand to witness the annual all-star struggle on Thursday, the crowd wasn't quite as large as in recent years. It was also evident that more people entered the East Stroudsburg gymnasium by other means than the paying gate than in past years. Funds obtained from this game are used to hold a banquet annually for all varsity basketball players in the league. However, in order to hold the affair this year it is expected that each athletic association will be asked to kick in with a certain amount of cash, in order to meet the cost of the banquet.

Wednesday's "Past Times Review" staged by the people of Stroudsburg, proved to be one of the most successful presentations ever held in this area. The affair grossed more than $600 for the Varsity "S" club and make its spring banquet and award day an assured success. An affair such as that held Wednesday serves only to prove what great success can be obtained when everyone in the community pulls together, rather than act as at least two different factions. They're still talking about "Past Times Review" and apparently will be talking about the affair for a long time to come.

Bountain High faced off against Stroudsburg on Tuesday night at least two of its cage stars. The boys were being punished for failure to attend a recent practice session. John Howe, former Stroudsburg High basketball, baseball and football star is headed for Uncle Sam's Navy. Manuel "Moto" Alms, student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, thinks Bethlehem is a sure thing to capture East-Penn League basketball honors, but several fellow students like Allentown.

Clarence "Buck" Etchison, first baseman with the Boston Braves during the war years and manager of the Mahanoy City entry in the class "B" 1948 Atlantic League in 1947 and 1948, has been named to pilot the Harrisburg club of the class "B" Inter-State League for the coming campaign. Bill Schmidt, basketball star at ESSTC for the past three seasons, is one of the comparatively few students in the history of the college to serve as class president for four years.

Guy "Cub" Bessinger, former outstanding basketball performer at Stroudsburg High, is one of two freshmen to play on the Furman College cage machine during the current campaign. Furman won 18 games, lost five and averaged 75.3 points per game, while the opposition was held to 66.2 markers a contest. The Purple Paladins have been invited to compete in the Southern Conference Tournament in Raleigh, N. C., postponing, wearing number 30, took part in 17 games, ten field goals in 25 attempts, connected on five of 13 appearances from the charity line, committed 26 personal fouls and wound up the regular campaign with 25 points, or an average of one and one-half markers a game.

Trenton State Teachers College was without at least two key performers when it fell before ESSTC on Wednesday. The players are currently doing their student teaching and at Trenton student teachers are ineligible for varsity athletics. Lloyd Sterner, first baseman with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1947, was one of the officials in Wednesday's Trenton-ESSTC cage struggle.

Although Frank Radler, who turned in such a great job of managing the Stroudsburg Poconos during the final three years of the North Atlantic League's existence, apparently turned down an offer to pilot Unity City, Tenn., of the class "D" Kitty League earlier this week, it still seems possible that the popular right handed hurler may do his pitching in the hills of Tennessee next summer. Unity City is persistent and apparently wants Radler to pilot the club during the 1952 campaign. However, both parties have yet to reach an agreement on salary.

East Stroudsburg Defeats Stroudsburg, 56-47

Cavaliers Break Long Losing Habit

East Stroudsburg High basketball broke a five-year basketball famine with a bang last night, when the purple and white clad pupils of Coach Dick Forster rose to the heights and defeated Stroudsburg High, 56-47, in the second "Battle of the Boroughs" of the present campaign, as a "standing room only" crowd screamed itself hysterical in the N. Courtland St. gymnasium.

The Cavaliers and Mountaineers battled evenly throughout the game in the field goal department and came up with 17 doubleheaders, however, the rejuvenated East Stroudsburg machine made a brilliant showing from the foul line, making good on 22 of 30 shots from the charity stripe, while the Mountaineers remained in the thick of the battle until midway in the fourth quarter by making a good showing of 13 of 21 attempts from the free throw line.

Sparked by a well rounded attack the Cavaliers fought Stroudsburg on even terms in the early moments of the first round and then vaulted into a 17-7 advantage at the end of the period, thanks to a brilliant display of foul shooting, in which the home club made nine of nine.

Alden "Red" Fetherman, who entered the contest late in the first period, put on a brilliant display of basketball during the second round and pulled the Mountaineers up to within three points of the home club, scoring ten points during the uphill fight.

However, Ray Steele, marching Fetherman's play in the closing portion of the second stanza, bagging four quick doubleheaders on a jump-shot from about ten feet out. The Cavaliers reached the halfway mark on the long end of a 31-24 count.

Stroudsburg, showing the second half class that made the Mountaineers famous during the campaign, came roaring back behind Fetherman in the third round and quickly ate into the East Stroudsburg lead, on two field goals by Fetherman and one by Dave "Muscles" Everett. The Mountaineers kept coming and combining a solid scoring punch with a strong defense, the visiting charges of Coach Sam Russell vaulted into a 36-31 edge at the end of the third period, after holding a three-point lead late in the quarter. Stroudsburg had the better of the third session, 12-3, as East Stroudsburg failed to register a field goal during the third round.

The Russellmen apparently were destined to pull another game out of the fire, just as they had come from behind late in the last quarter to win the first meeting between the two teams, 39-38. However, a souped up band of East Stroudsburg cagers, who apparently had learned their basketball lesson well, regrouped their forces and came out swinging in the final stanza.

Fetherman dunked a doubleheader to give the Mountaineers a four-point edge, but it was the last time the Mountaineers were to see daylight. Dick Newton dropped in a field goal and Jack Tredinnick and Paul "Candy" Miller "zipped" fouls to tie the count.

New Life

The sudden turn of events seemed to put new life into the East Stroudsburg machine, as Steele, Tredinnick and Miller dumped in a pair of field goals each, while Joe Chase, playing the finest contest of his short varsity career, dumped in a single doubleheader.

Chase, John "Juice" Arns, Tredinnick, Steele, Miller and Newton also hit from the foul line to insure victory. The Cavaliers held a 22-11 edge in the last stanza.

Stroudsburg lost Al Adelmann and two minutes remaining in the game respectively, while Newton and Steele went out via the same route late in the last quarter, Steele with only 47 seconds remaining on the clock.

Steele drew down top scoring honors for the game, carding 18 points on seven goals from the floor and four from the foul line. Fetherman, playing his best game of the campaign, completed his scholastic career with 16 tallies, on seven goals from the floor and two from the charity stripe.

Color At Inter-Borough Tilt

Color was everywhere last night as East Stroudsburg High took the measure of Stroudsburg for the first time in many moons. The color that makes scholastic athletics thrilling was evident both in the stands and on the court. In fact East Stroudsburg had to change from purple to white jerseys seconds before the game started, as the purple too nearly matched Stroudsburg's maroon jerseys.

Stroudsburg added John Ifft, Bill Banka and Pete Kelfer to its cheering corps for last night's game, while John Eaton and partner gave a special cheer for East Stroudsburg during the second half.

Ray Steele made good on his first three field goal attempts, while the entire East Stroudsburg team ran up 13 straight foul shot conversions before missing. Nine of the charity conversions came in the first stanza and four in the second round. The miss also occurred in the second round.

Stroudsburg made only one field goal in the first period, with Al Adelmann having the honors. The Mountaineers also made five of six attempts from the free-throw line during the first eight minutes. Eastburg went scoreless from the floor in the third round.

Mike Lisetski and Sam Cooperman, the same officials who worked the first "Battle of the Boroughs" this season, were calling the plays last night. A meeting of the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg type is the toughest kind to call and under conditions prevailing, Cooperman and Lisetski turned in good performances both times.

Cramer's Cut Rate, a basketball entry in the Senior High league at the Monroe County YMCA had a cheering section of its own—with all yells favoring East Stroudsburg.

Among the well known sports figures attending last night's tussle were Ray Welsh, Gene Martin, Tom Waring, Harold Newman, Dr. John Lim and Marty Baldwin.

Players of the winning team were half carried-half pulled from the floor and given a good natured mauling as East Stroudsburg fans celebrated the first basketball win over Stroudsburg in five years.

Shaymen Host To Scranton

Fan interest hits its peak at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College today, when the Warriors battle with the purple and white clad cagers of the University of Scranton, on the Normal Hill hardwood. The main event is slated to get underway at 8:15 p.m., following a preliminary contest between the Gunners and Podunk U. two teams chosen from the student body, which is listed for 7 p.m.

ESSTC, having won its last outing, will be out to improve upon a record that shows only four victories in 15 contests, while Scranton, loser of its most recent game, will put a mark of 12 wins and 13 defeats on the line.

Lines

Coach Ed Shay will undoubtedly stick with the same lineup against opened hostilities against Trenton. This means that Dan Dinan and Bill Schmidt will handle the forward duties, while Frank "Whitey" Whitecavage operates out of the center post. Jim Frawley and Joe Maiorillo are listed for starting guard assignment.

Scranton, under the guidance of Coach Pete Carlesimo, will probably start the game with Captain Gene Carbone and Sammy Cavalier in the forward spots, Joe Pitt at center, and Patty Ryan and Bill Musto at the guard spots.

ESSTC winds up its campaign next week, Wednesday at West Chester on Wednesday and home against Wilkes College next Saturday.

Phillipsburg Takes Measure Of Bangor

Phillipsburg, N. J.—Bangor High school suffered a 61-43 setback in its final trip to the hardwood in the 1951-1952 basketball season here last night when Phillipsburg High ran up a 61-43 verdict over the Staters.

The same story was true in the preliminary encounter, when the Phillipsburg yearlings ran over the Bangor junior varsity, 53-25.

Phillipsburg, behind Gene O'Connor's high scoring ability, held the upper hand throughout the battle. The home club led 17-10 at the end of the first period and 26-17 at halftime.

Same Story

It was the same story in the second half, with Phillipsburg on top of the tied period count, 20-13, and on the winning end of a 15-13 final period tabulation.

Bangor made 11 of 18 foul shots, while Phillipsburg made the same number of conversions in 20 attempts.

O'Connor was the game's top scorer with 35 points, while Joe Heard and Asa Pysker paced the Bangor attack, with 11 and 10 tallies respectively.

St. Louis, seeded number two, will play the Dayton-New York University winner on March 11 with the Holy Cross-team X winner taking on Duquesne in the night's other game. The semi-final and final round games will be played March 13 and 15.

Woodling Leads Tannersville To Victory Over Vets, 72-54

Tannersville—Tannersville, the number one club in the Pocono Mountains League, winged to a 72-54 victory over the Stroudsburg Veterans of Foreign Wars last night, on the hot shooting hand of Lloyd "Sonny" Woodling, who picked up 27 tallies in a winning cause.

The first half of the special doubleheader featured the high school quintet in an unofficial 20-8 victory over the faculty, in "Ghost Basketball". Since the game is played in the dark with a luminous ball, backboard, boundaries and uniforms, it was almost impossible to keep an accurate check on the score.

A capacity crowd was on hand to witness the special fund raising bargain bill, on the Pocono High school court.

Early Lead

Tannersville jumped off to a 15-8 advantage over the Vets in the first period, and clung to a 28-23 lead at halftime, although Coach Tom Shiffer's quintet had the better of the going in the second round, 15-13.

The Vets also managed to gain a slim 18-16 advantage in the third period, but Tannersville entered the home stretch leading by three points, 44-41.

However, the home team put the contest on ice with a 28-13 bulge in the final period scoring. Tannersville made 14 of 31 shots from the foul line, while the Vets rang the bell on ten of 17 tosses from the same distance.

Tragedy Strikes Waiting Fighter

New York (AP)—Unaware that his seven year-old son, Art Jr., had been killed in a Philadelphia street accident yesterday, bantamweight Art Mullen was all set to box in an emergency bout in Madison Square Garden last night.

No Chance

But he never got his long sought shot in the Garden. No emergency fights were needed, and so the Philadelphia boxer headed back home to face the tragic news.

Word of his son's death had been withheld from him at his wife's request.

Mat Warriors Entertain Poly

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, thirsty for its first wrestling victory of the current campaign, was faced with the prospect of forfeiting the 123-pound match to Brooklyn Poly today, when the New York grapplers invade the Normal Hill gymnasium, at approximately 3 p.m. It is the home team's final match of the season.

Coach George Ockershausen announced last night that Frank Presty had been injured in a gym class and will be unable to compete in the 123-pound match today. The injury forces the Warriors to concede the visiting grapplers five points right off the bat.

Hoeful

However, ESSTC, having dropped five matches thus far this season, is anxiously looking forward to its first win, despite the loss of Presty.

The remainder of the lineup will feature Ralph Wagner at 130; Chris Poff, 137; Italo "Ray" Veltri, 147; Art Schaare, 157; Ray Tibbett, 167; Ken Cox, 177, and Bob Tyson in the heavy-weight division.

ESSTC has fallen before Wilkes College, Lock Haven, West Chester, Ithaca and Millersville thus far this season.

State Agency Changes Name

The Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation will change its official name to the Bureau of Employment Security beginning today, according to an announcement yesterday by Jack Muschok, manager of the East Stroudsburg office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service. The State Employment Service and the Unemployment Compensation division are the two branches of the bureau.

The change in title has been authorized by David M. Walker, secretary of labor and industry, as a convenience to employers, workers and others who deal with this State agency. Repeated suggestions have been received in the past for shortening the cumbersome title of the bureau, and this change is designed to meet such requests.

"The new name, Bureau of Employment Security will be truly descriptive of the work of the agency," Mr. Muschok said. "Through the 114 State employment offices in Pennsylvania, more than 365,000 persons were placed in jobs last year, 1,410 of them through the East Stroudsburg office of the employment service. In 1951, benefits totalling approximately $66,000,000 were paid to eligible unemployed workers throughout the State. Through these twin channels of job placements and unemployment benefits, the bureau helped to make security a reality for Pennsylvania's 4,000,000 workers and at the same time performed valuable services for business and industry in the Commonwealth."

It will take up to 18 months before all the identifying signs and forms in the bureau will be corrected to show the new title, Mr. Muschok said. During this period, either the title "Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation" or the new name "Bureau of Employment Security" may be used by those dealing with the agency.
